

Get REAL This Summer!

2012 REAL Entrepreneurship Institute

Georgia REAL Enterprises, a 501 (c)(3) non-profit for entrepreneurship education, is looking for teachers and community leaders who want to get REALly serious about incorporating financial concepts and skills into their instructional program.

The REAL Institute provides a 37.5 contact hour course that prepares educators from all levels (including K-8, high school, post-secondary and community-based organization educators) to teach REAL entrepreneurship, a hands-on course which helps students learn to think, plan and act as entrepreneurs. A personalized learning experience walks educators through the training with relevant examples for each level of education.

Institute participants will gain valuable experience, interact with experienced REAL instructors and learn how to prepare innovative, entrepreneurship-friendly lessons and course plans. Graduate credit is available. Cost is $1,500 which includes tuition, five days of lodging and meals, and a copy/copyrights to the REAL curriculum.
